- 1 Tambaroora General Cemetery in Alphabetical Order Page 2

This list has been compiled from several sources:

1. A list and plan of the TGC compiled circa 1975 by NPWS and added too up until the early 2000's, [NP-L-1975], with contributions by others including Red Jack Ellis up until the early 2000's.
2. A list and plan compiled by Rob Pauling in 1988 for both the TGC and TCC [RB-PL-1988]
3. A list and plan of the TGC compiled by Mudgee Shire Council in 1997 [MSC-1997]
4. The Parish Records for the Church of England, Parish of Tambaroora and Sofala, 1861-1971. [CEPR], held by SAG
4. Visual observations of existing headstones and plaques in each cemetery. [Warwick P Taylor]
5. New South Wales Births, Deaths and Marriages Register. [NSWBDM]
6. Newspaper Family Notices by TROVE, National Library of Australia.
7. Military Service Records, National Archives of Australia

Copies of some of the above sources are held by Hill End & Tambaroora Gathering Group and NSW National Parks & Wildlife Service, Hill End.

NOTE:

1. Before the establishment of the C of E church graveyard in 1855 [now the Tambaroora General Cemetery] the known earlier cemeteries were:
 - the cemetery now under Warrys Road across from the Village camp ground known as the Bald Hill Cemetery, and
 - the cemetery on the north east corner of Tambaroora township and is mentioned in documents when the Tambaroora community approached the Colonial Secretary in October 1854 to have a Church of England Church established. The correspondence noted that there was a cemetery in existence with 10 interments. [source: CEPR and the Colonial Secretary's Correspondence, NSW State Records]
2. The original 1855 C of E cemetery was from the outset used as a protestant cemetery even though the land was dedicated for the Church of England, Margaret Paxton was of the prebyterian faith and one of the earliest burials in the cemetery. The cemetery followed that of the english heritage of a church having a graveyard, hence why initially no formal dedication for a cemetery was made in the NSW Government Gazettes. Not until 1951 did the cemetery receive legal status as a General Cemetery.
